1974

1974 was a year of decision for Sister Brennan, and thus became the year of a loss to the school. We sadly say good-bye to Sister Brennan as she leaves her post as Headmistress to take up new work on the faculty at the Sacred Heart school in Cairo, Egypt. Our gratitude for the vision and gift of her years here, and our prayers for a deeply satisfying experience go with her.

In memory of Lisa, a friend whom we will always remember, and who will be in our hearts forever.

"I love you."

There is a much greater motivation than simply my spoken words. For me, to love is to commit myself, freely and without reservation. I am sincerely interested in your happiness and well being. Whatever your needs are, I will try to fulfill them and will bend in my values depending on the importance of your need. If you are lonely and need me, I will be there.

If in that loneliness you need to talk, I will listen. If you need to listen, I will talk. If you need the strength of human touch, I will touch you.

If I give you kindness and understanding, then I will receive your faith.

Today you are you!

That is truer than true
There is no one alive
Who is you-er than you
Shout loud "I am lucky
To be what I am!"
Thank God that I'm not
Just a clam or a ham
Or a dusty old jar of Sour gooseberry jam.

These words sum up our feelings in the Primary School. Our program is designed to develop each child's self-discipline and concern for others. Our concern is for their total growth; social, emotional and intellectual.

Discovery's Growth in Lower School

The goal of education in the Lower School is to provide opportunities for a child to invent and discover, and to experience personal growth and success. The learning centers are organized into areas of experience to which the children come to work and explore individually or in groups.

At times there is a variety of activities going on simultaneously, each child working in ways best suited to her interests and styles. There are also times when the entire class is gathered together for a common experience.

The basic academic program is periodically enriched by field trips, films and mini-courses. The children also share experiences with the children in the Primary and Middle Schools.

MIDDLE SCHOOL

Variety Abounds in Middle School

The middle school is growing in many different areas. This year we have three new teachers: Miss Casey, who teaches drama and English; Sr. Herbst, who is Fifth grade home-room teacher and in charge of lab; and Miss Wasy, a math teacher.

With the system of mini-courses the students of the middle school have a wide variety of subjects from which to choose. Many art and drama classes offered this year were Acting I, Public Speaking I, Pantomime and Interpretive Reading. Classes such as Applique, Jewelry and Textile Printing were some of the art classes offered. Music and Science were also offered, giving the students a wide range of knowledge and interest in these areas. Mrs. Costello offered a class called Current Events. From this a paper called the MS Times was founded. Mrs. Faucett is also an active worker on the staff. The paper is unique because of its structure and articles. It contains national news, combined with school news. The members of the staff, as well as Mrs. Costello and Mrs. Faucett, have worked jointly in the publishing of the paper.

We all know that this school year will be remembered in years to come.

ADMINISTRATION FACULTY STAFF

Faculty Fulfills Students Needs

"Whatever your needs are, I will try to fulfill them and will bend in my values depending on the importance of your need . . ."

The faculty of the Academy of the Sacred Heart, through close working contact, seeks to fulfill the many needs of the students. The goal of the faculty is the motivation to education of each student as an individual with special needs and strengths. Many faculty members devote their own time to student activities: directing a play, making fudge, holding evening meetings for extra-curriculars and school programs, chaperoning sock-hops. Some teachers gave up precious gasoline to help members of their Wednesday program groups go on research trips.

The Wednesday program itself brought a new experience for many students and faculty. Everyone worked together as "equals," and evaluated together at the end of the term. This arrangement removed a "classroom" atmosphere from the program and permitted even more cooperation between teachers and students.

Thus, in every area, stress is laid upon developing programs to suit the individual needs of each student, and on working together towards this end.

CLUBS

American Experience Comes to Bloomfield

Can you picture yourself in the bottom of the Grand Canyon? Or at the summit of a 14,000 foot mountain? We couldn't either until last summer looking into the Colorado River or down at the trees which seemed like dots in the distance. We experienced a variety of other things: canoeing down the Missouri River, riding a trolley in San Francisco, and, of course, sleeping in an American Experience van bound for California, U.S.A.!

The groups were all chosen from interested students attending Eastern Sacred Heart schools. There were seven students and two fun-loving nuns in each van. The program lasts six weeks during the summer, and offers a credit in the field of Social Studies. In order to receive the credit, each participant must fulfill pre-determined requirements, like reading six books, keeping a log, and making a final evaluation.

We learned many things this past summer, about ourselves, other people, and our country. Without this program, we would never have had the opportunity.

The American Experience, although new this year to Bloomfield Hills Sacred Heart, is a three-year-old "tradition." Unfortunately, nature's factors, especially the gasoline shortage, may prevent it in 1974. In hopes that in following years, the tradition can continue, the American Experience group set up a highly successful money-raiser, a small general store, at school.

The American Experience offered to us a new type of learning, so, from all the students in the program, we would like to extend our special thanks to the people who helped us to learn so much, Sr. Sue Rogers and her adventurous nuns.

Student Council Works In Inter-School Group

Student Council this year was presided over by Barb Sehn. She and the class representatives organized the Christmas party for the faculty, and, for the first time, got all of the stockings in on time (only to have the party postponed due to a snow day). After Christmas, second-term vice-president, Lynn Darin, took over while Barb was in India, and helped to coordinate A.S.H. involvement in the six-school social committee, including plans for a benefit concert.

Later in the year Student Council planned the annual Pancake Supper, as well as the School Fair, both held in the Spring. Also accomplished was an amendment to the constitution making the new voting procedures official.

NHS Seeks New Goals

The K. S. Wansboro chapter of the National Honor Society promoted eight students to full membership, named four new provisional members and, a week later, was notified that the provisional status had been eliminated. This policy change necessitated much re-thinking of the goals of NHS. President Mandie Wolf, Secretary Karen Burden, and Moderator Sr. Cherry, along with members, tried to define the place of the club in the school.

Among other things this year, the NHS posted an honor roll, served as waitresses at a faculty party, directed parents on conference days, and provided tutorial services to any students in need of them.

Spanish Club

Formed

The first Spanish Club was formed this year. It consists of students who are interested in Spanish culture. Although its membership is small, the club has high hopes for the future.

The club planned a fiesta that was to take place during the week before Christmas vacation. However, due to a two-day snow holiday, it was cancelled. They planned another one for later in the year. Club members also circulated a newsletter and recipe collection, and attended the Ballet Folklórico at Masonic Auditorium.

High School's First Year of I.E.R.

I.E.R. means Inquiry, Exchange, and Response. It is a group of freshmen under the guidance of Sister Brennan and is a continuation of a program begun in the Middle School that met once a week and discussed a project along with Sacred Heart schools in Japan and Belgium.

The projects are thought of and executed by interested students in grades seven to nine. Each year a new topic is selected to be presented and discussed. (This year's topic was "The Heart of America.") Each group puts its presentation together and sends it to the other participating countries. Once the presentation is received, the group discusses and analyzes it and it is sent back.

The response in I.E.R. is the most important factor in the exchange. This exchange gives each group a chance to look at its country in a different way. Many times the members discover something new about their country's lifestyle. Although last year, participation in this program was mandatory, this year it was voluntary and open to any interested freshman. Hopefully I.E.R. will be offered next year to the incoming freshmen.

Backpackers Hike Appalachian Trail

In the fall of '73, a new club was formed under the leadership of Mr. Goebel. This backpacking club planned several excursions into the wilds, the first of which was to Grayling, Michigan. "The trip kind of bombed out," said one group member, "we got lost." The fearless backpackers ended up camping out around the Goebels' in-laws' cabin.

Later in the year, the club planned a two-week-long hike down the Appalachian Trail. This Easter-time trip started at the Great Smoky Mountains National Park, and headed south on the trail. In order to finance the hike, backpackers held a Big Mac Day, selling Big Macs and orange pop for a dollar at lunch; and a paper drive in the Spring.

Social Committee

Brings Life to School

A new club this year, the Social Committee, was formed in order to organize and run social events at Sacred Heart. Starting from a nearly non-existent base, the Social Committee gradually built up a reputation of excellent light shows, innovative bands, like Scratch and Common Bond, and a different atmosphere than at other schools. After one sock hop in the gym, the Social Committee changed the location to the auditorium, a smaller room with better acoustics and lighting.

The first Christmas Dance in two years, also held in the auditorium, was a joint effort with Marion High. Under the direction of a special committee headed by Elise Fisher, the semi-formal was open to juniors and seniors of both schools. Because of its great success, it gained many more patrons for our events here in the past year.

Because of their increasing aptitude for publicity, as well as their exposure at the newly-formed six-school social committee, the Social Committee put Sacred Heart into the stream of social activities in the area.

New Organization Improves Crossroads

Crossroads 1974 was published by an editorial staff of five experienced juniors and their underclass staffers. Editor-in-chief Lynn Darin, along with Joy Tomlinson, Terri Bellaimey, Isabel Fleurquin, Marie Cardinale and advisor Sr. Rogers re-vamped the whole structure of the yearbook club. Changes were made in the structure of the yearbook and the club. The addition of ads, witty "doodles", and the new "US" section were only a few examples of the improved organization resulting from the guidance of Sr. Rogers and hard work.

1974 Marks Drama Club's First Musical

For the second year in a row, the Drama Club has put on two successful productions. This year, under the direction of Mr. Mize and his wife, the club presented three one-acts titled "Theater of the Absurd" in the fall, and the operetta, "The Mikado", in the spring. "The Mikado" involved more of the student body than ever before in drama, and marked the first musical ever put on in the auditorium.

Both shows were successes, and paved the way for more involvement in Drama Club productions in the future.

Wednesday Program Focuses on Ethnicity

The Wednesday Program this year was centered on the subject of ethnicity. Using the family as a universal basis of comparison, and the Detroit area as a lab, the Upper School students tried to determine what American Society is by exploring the ethnic groups that form it.

Coordinated by Mr. Kokoszka, Mrs. Smith, and the Core Group, the program started with several weeks' orientation in the fields relevant to the topic.

The first phase of the program also included a bus tour during which ethnic groupings were shown. The trip gave a new perspective to the students, many of whom had never seen the toured neighborhoods.

In the second phase of the program, the core group worked long hours in order to compile information for each ethnic study group. The groups spent eight weeks gathering and compiling information for presentations which the core group evaluated by student participation, presentations and a journal.

These factors, along with the sharp drop in absenteeism, showed the program to be a success.

Frosh Team

Sparks Hockey Spirit

Once more, the Gazelle field hockey teams enjoyed a well-played season. From the beginning of try-outs, there was a great deal of excitement over the upcoming season. So many tried out that a third team, made up of freshmen, was added. This, the white team, played four games: against Kingswood, University-Liggett, West Bloomfield, and Algonac. They had a 3-1-0 record.

The "hockey girls" on the Junior Varsity had a 3-4-2 record, including a spectacular victory over Ann Arbor Green Hills. Supported by sophomore and junior members, the gold team worked hard for its well-deserved victories, and refused to go down without a fight.

Sacred Heart's Varsity team put a lot of girls in kilts in the fall of '73. Coach "Good" Dritsas put together a strong forward line and tightened the defense considerably over the summer at hockey camps and fall practices. As a result the Gazelle Varsity record was 5-1-3, including a glorious 7-0 shutout of Ann Arbor Green Hills. Disappointingly, only six Gazelles made the all-city teams, as contrasted with last year's team. This, coupled with more than one rained-out game and a bus breakdown on the way to Ann Arbor, could have made for low morale on the field, but the '73-'74 Gazelles didn't let these setbacks stand in their way of having another victorious season.

V-Ball Revived in '73-'74

Power volleyball was again revived as a Varsity sport in 1973-74. An enthusiastic group of students played out their season against Kingswood, Ann Arbor Huron, Pioneer, University-Liggett, and Ann Arbor Green Hills, with fair success. It had been two years since this sport was last played at Sacred Heart, but a few of the "old pro" servers and spikers were still here. Combined with newer players, they formed energetic Varsity and Junior Varsity teams.

The Gazelle Volleyball players, in spite of their hard work, had very little student support at games. Attendance was low, but it is hoped that more fans will turn up to cheer our teams on to victory.

Gazelle Cagers

Get Two Coaches

The Gazelle Basketball season started later this year, due to the timing of the Volleyball season. The shortness of the season did not affect the team's scoring or its determination.

Playing for the first time under the same rules used in boys' basketball, the Gazelle Varsity chalked up a good season, starting with Playday. They won their second game 50-14 against Ann Arbor Green Hills, when the whole team got a chance to play.

The Junior Varsity Team was coached by Mr. Goebel for the first time this year, an arrangement which gave both coaches more chance to work with the teams. Both teams enjoyed successful seasons this year as a result.

UNDERCLASSMEN

Freshman Class Full of Spirit

This year's Freshman class promises to have been one of the most spirited in Sacred Heart's history. Always in large, enthusiastic turn-outs at sports events, they gave the Juniors tough competition at pre-game pep rallies.

After initiation, the frosh soon became a cohesive, active group, participating in everything from instrumental music to sports. The Frosh hockey team, a quick, aggressive group, showed great talent. Freshmen also participated in drama, dance, ski, and yearbook clubs, and worked hard in the Wednesday Program planning group.

The class of seventy-seven was intent upon selling the most Hemlines and Horsepower raffle tickets, in order to add fifty dollars to their treasury, and their Christmas clothing drive met with great success. All can attest to the great spirit of this class of varied, but unified, Freshmen.

Sophomores' Class

Project Continues

The sophomore class of '73-'74 actively continued their support of Jo-An, an Amer-Asian child adopted two years ago through the Pearl Buck Foundation. The class of '76 raised money to help pay food, clothing, schooling, and living expenses for her through bake sales, donations, and other fund-raising projects.

In addition to caring for Jo-An's needs, the sophs found time to participate in extra-curriculars. Sophomores were active in Dramatics, Yearbook, and sports. Two class members were on the All-City field hockey team. Several of the sophomores on the staff of Crossroads were in training for the editorial jobs this year, preparing to succeed the juniors next year.

The class of '76 showed an increase in spirit this year, and are increasing their own responsibilities around the High School as well.

Juniors Still Involved, Spirited

The class of '75 had another full, spirited year in '73-'74. The Juniors, active participants in all phases of student life, had several class efforts in which they exhibited their school and class spirit. Juniors worked furiously in order to sell the most Hemlines and Horsepower raffle tickets, and sold cookies and cider at the Gazelle hockey games, in an effort to raise money for the Junior-Senior Banquet.

Juniors were well-represented on all of the Gazelle teams this year, and in all clubs and activities. The social committee was comprised almost exclusively of Juniors, and Crossroads '74's editors were all Juniors.

The spirited victors of the Student Council's College Bowls, the third academic team gave up only one loss. Stiff competition from the freshmen in activities from pep rallies to field day only increased the spirit of seventy-five, and spurred the Juniors' determination to take home the tin-can trophy a third time. Seventy-five can't be stopped!
